BAD STOMACH
MAKES BAD BLOOD.

You can't make sweet butter in a foul churn. Every farmer's wife knows this. Your stomach churns and digests the food you eat, and if foul, torpid or out of order, your whole system suffers from blood poisoning. You will have foul breath, coated tongue, bad taste, poor appetite and a whole train of disagreeable symptoms. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which is not a beverage composed of whisky or alcohol, being entirely free from intoxicants, is a great regulator and invigorator of the Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

"About a year ago I was ill with blood poisoning," writes Miss Evaline Louis, of 80 Walter Street, Buffalo, N. Y. "I had what seemed to be a small cold sore on my lip. It became very angry in appearance and began to spread until it nearly covered my face. I was a frightful sight and could not go outside the house because of my appearance. I used a blood medicine which did not give me any relief. Then I began to take your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I was greatly benefited with the first bottle and after taking the second bottle was completely cured. The erysipelatous eruption disappeared and my blood was cleansed. My complexion is clear and fresh and I have felt better this year than I did for some time before. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is certainly a most remarkable medicine."

Don't accept a substitute for a medicine which performs such cures and which has a uniformly successful record of nearly forty years to its credit. It's an insult to your intelligence for a dealer to try by over-persuasion to palm off upon you in its stead some inferior article with no record to back it up. You know what you want; it is his business to meet that want.

$50,000 GIVEN AWAY, in copies of The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a book that sold to the extent of 500,000 copies a few years ago, at $1.50 per copy. Last year we gave away 680,000 worth of these invaluable books. This year we shall give away $50,000 worth of them. Will you share in this benefit? If so, send only 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only for book in stiff paper covers, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Constipation although a little ill, begets big ones if neglected. Dr. Pierce's Pellets cures constipation.

... FOR LADIES, TOO.

They Can Stop Their Hair Falling Out With Herpicide.

Ladies who have thin hair and whose hair is falling out, can prevent the hair falling out, and thicken the growth, with Newbro's "Herpicide." Besides, Herpicide is one of the most agreeable hair dressings there is. Herpicide kills the dandruff germ that eats the hair off at the root. After the germ is destroyed, the root will shoot up, and the hair grow long as ever. Even a sample will convince any lady that Newbro's Herpicide is an indispensable toilet requisite. It contains no oil or grease, it will not stain or dye. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10 in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

MULTIPLE AND SINGLE LISTS.

To the Editor of the Alexandria Gazette:

In your editorial of Friday regarding the multiple list system and the single list system of selecting the public school books, you appear to have missed the point at issue. It is far from being "flimsy;" it is simply this: Shall the patrons of the public schools be compelled to pay from 20 to 50 per cent. more for exactly the same books by the multiple list system than they would have to pay were the single list system in force? To illustrate, Maury's Manual of Geography costs, under the former system in vogue in Virginia, $1.15; in North Carolina, where the single list system is in force, the same book with the same binding, paper, etc., sells for 88c. The small geography sells in Virginia for 50c, in North Carolina for 40c, and so on through the list.

The cause of this difference which has cost the people of this State many thousands of dollars each year, lies in the choice by the Virginia State Board of Education of the multiple list plan for the selection of school books, as opposed to the single list plan which was presented to the Board. Under the multiple list plan several sets of readers, arithmetics, geographies, etc., are selected from which the county and city boards may make their choice. Under the single list plan a list of books is chosen by the State Board for the whole State. In the latter case the bidder knows that he has the whole State to furnish and he makes a lower price, because of the large business and his smaller expenses for agents, sample books, postage, &c. Under the multiple list plan the publishers are at heavy expense for agents sent into the counties to advocate their books, for forwarding many sample books for the same purpose, for postage, etc.

It is understood that most of the Southern States have adopted the single list system. The choice of plans lay with the State Board. The single list was definitely presented to it by the county board of Prince Edward county, and warmly advocated in a petition drawn by the County Superintendent, Mr. J. D Eggleston, now a candidate for the place of State Superintendent of Public Instruction. It is understood that the single list plan only received the vote of Governor Montague. It is safe to say that the people of Virginia will give very serious consideration to this question in selecting their candidates at the primary next summer, and equally safe to say that they are not apt to be in favor of any one who stands sponsor for a system which costs them a very heavy sum of money unnecessarily. The question concerns the Governor, as well as the Superintendent of Education, because the former is a member of the board as well as the latter.

You seem to be under the impression that by the single list system, the board is compelled to take all the books from one publisher. This is not the case. The list may contain the books of several publishers. It is simply established for the whole State. As regards your argument based on "variety," this, while doubtless quite true for "food," scarcely holds for school books. There is no reason why a judiciously selected list of school books should not suit the pupils in Alexandria, Richmond, Norfolk and Danville equally well. Faithfully yours,

JULIAN TAYLOR.

Rothschild Gives Quiltmaker a Fortune.

Max Fidler, the young artisan who will receive a bequest of $48,000 from a beggar uncle whenever he goes to Europe to collect it, is making and selling quilts, as usual, in Cook street, Brooklyn. He is clearing $10 a week right along while the cold weather last, and ten dollars a week is not to be despised by a man who supports four sisters, a wife and a baby, even though he will have five or six times that income in a few months.

Fidler will go to Europe and settle with Baron August Rothschild when the weather is warmer. He says he cannot spare time from the quilt business in the midst of the most propitious weather in 15 years. Meanwhile his legacy and those of the four sisters are being looked after by Lawyer Jacob Cebulsky, of New York, and Maitre Labori, of France, who accepts 15 per cent. of the sum in question as a fee.

Max Fidler is 31 years old, comes from Odessa, lives at 83 Cook street with the family before enumerated, and has his shop across the street. In 1828 his Uncle Abraham was kidnapped by the Constantinoviches and put in the army to serve a term of 21 years. In 1885 he appeared in Nice, aged about 70, collected some $10 a month from the Russian consulate, begged at doors by day, at a crossing by night, and opened an account with Rothschild & Co., Paris.

When he died, last August, Abraham Fidler had 2,000,000 francs deposited with the Rothschilds. In a will composed of the four words "Gelt geht zu gelt" (money goes to money), he left it to Baron August Rothschild.

The Baron had already more than he knew what to do with. He was trying to disburse, not to accumulate. He set detectivses to find Fidler's heirs, and they located his brother, Jacob Samuel Fidler, who was still in Odessa. Jacob Samuel had three daughters still under the paternal roof, and four living with his son Max in New York.

Baron Rothschild divided 800,000 francs between the three girls in Odessa, and sent notice to Max and his New York sisters that the rest was at their disposal. The sisters gave Max their power of attorney, which he has passed on for the present to the great French lawyer who defended Zola.

A Comparison of Muslin Underclothes With Others.

Put side by side they tell the story; the extra care and watchfulness exercised by this store shows in every garment. Night Gowns are asmost half a yard wider at the hips than others selling elsewhere at the same price. Chemises instead of being shapeless things looking like a petticoat with a top cut out in V shape are shaped to fit. Corset Covers are cut right to go over straight front corsets, and under tight-fitting bodies. When it comes to the laces and embroideries and materials from which the underclothes are made, you would in most cases choose ours with your eyes shut. You won't find a piece of muslin among them filled up with clay to make it heavy, nor anything pretending to be nainsook which is as coarse as a salt bag. Yet all of these improvements don't make our prices higher than in Washington.

Night Gowns, 39c to $2.50. Drawers, 25c to $1.50. Petticoats, 49c to $2.50. Chemises, 25c to $1.00.

Ventriloquist Delayed a Funeral.

Sam Johnson, a negro ventriloquist of Queenstown, Md., is likely to find that talk of certain kinds is not cheap. Sam used his talent to break up a funeral; some negroes were frightened, the interment delayed, and Sam is in jail facing a fine. Resplendent in a stovepipe hat and a Prince Albert coat, Sam joined the mourners on the way to the cemetery. The imposing raiment led to the belief among the other negroes that Johnson was a visiting parson, and great respect was shown him. As the pall-bearers were about to lower the coffin into the grave, a voice, apparently coming from the coffin, said: "Let me down easy, boys." The pallbearers prepared to decamp. "Lower me gently, you charcoal chumps," the voice continued. "If I've got to be buried, I want to lie comfortably." That "finished" the pallbearers and everybody else but Sam. Sam stayed because he couldn't run for laughing. The joke was too good to keep; Sam told it, and the Sheriff got him.

A Touching Story

is the saving from death of the baby girl of Geo. A. Eyler, Cumberland, Md. He writes: "At the age of 11 months, our little girl was in declining health, with serious Throat Trouble, and two physicians gave her up. We were almost in despair, when we resolved to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. The first bottle gave relief; after taking four bottles she was cured, and is now in perfect health." Never fails to relieve and cure a cough or cold. At E. S. Alexandria Gazette
SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

TUESDAY EVENING, FEB. 21, 1905.

NO MATTER what may be the sins of commission and omission on the part of the present occupant of the White House, that he acted correctly in sending a message of condolence to the Czar on the occasion of the murder of Grand Duke Sergius by anarchists last Friday should be apparent not only to representatives of the American people, but to the intelligent laity and law-abiding generally; hence the action of Representative Baker, of New York, yesterday in denouncing the President for sending a message of sympathy will not appeal to the great majority. Among other things Mr. Baker declared that the American people viewed with abhorrence the massacre in St. Petersburg on January 22, but the President had not seen fit to send a message of condolence on that occasion. He subsequently read a resolution on the subject which in effect was a reiteration of his remarks previously made. He explained that his object in so doing was because it had been suggested that in that event a motion would be made to expel him. He shouted defiance to any member of the House to make the motion as he deposited the resolution and took his seat amid the confusion and turmoil which the incident had created. No one was so bereft of reason as to suggest his expulsion. A calm followed the brief tempest and the House resumed the consideration of the naval appropriation bill. No matter how great may be the sympathy of many in this country for those who are suffering under the yoke of autocracy, the fact that such is the form of government in Russia is the end of all controversy so far as diplomatic relations with that country is concerned, and President Roosevelt was altogether right in sending the message of condolence when one high in authority became the victim of assassins. That the Czar acted wisely in refusing to meet the representatives of his people in St. Petersburg on the fatal Sunday is a mooted question, and the slaughter that was the serious incident of that unfortunate demonstation is to be deplored; but the President of the United States could not officially express his commisseration for the many whose blood dyed the snow in front of the Winter Palace, no matter how much he and many other Americans may have sympathized with them.

"A PRAYER TRUST" is reported in Augusta, Me., which has incensed the superannuated and itinerant ministers of the three cities of Augusta, Hollowell and Gardner. It has been customary for the legislature to call upon the different ministers, without regard to denomination, to invoke divine blessing at the opening of each morning's session, but a certain clique of ministers, formed into a club, have got an order through the legislature allowing only those who have settled parishes to make prayers at the State House, thus freezing out all the superannuated and itinerant. This order was followed by another increasing the price from $2 to $5 per prayer, and this has especially spurred those outside of the circle to try to have the order rescinded.

IT IS NOW officially given out that no report will be made in the Senator Smoot case during the present Congress, for the reason that "time does not remain for consideration by the Senate of such report as the committee on privileges and elections might make and that members of the committee have virtually determined to continue the investigation during the summer, and desire to go to Utah and take testimony." These were the identical reasons given last year for a postponement of the report, but the committee act on the principle that any reason is better than none.

IT IS JUST as well that no arrangements were made this year for a parade in celebrating Washington's birthday, for no matter how favorable the weather may be tomorrow, the condition of the streets, which are covered with ice and slush, would have precluded the very idea of men marching through them.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 21.

There is said to be a little hope of the passage at this session of Congress of the bill making an appropriation for the Jamestown Exposition. Speaker Cannon refuses absolutely to recognize any member for the purpose of calling up the exposition bill.

Speaker Cannon today again emphasized his opposition to the passage of a building bill. The committee on public buildings and grounds prepared one, carrying about nine and a half million dollars. The speaker told the committee that he would not grant a rule for its consideration. Today a petition was presented to him signed by 300 members, asking that the bill be considered. Speaker Cannon again said them nay. The backers of the bill have not yet abandoned all hope although they are sadly discouraged.

Marching clubs and military organizations from the South are preparing to take a prominent part in the inaugural parade. Although the South rolled up the biggest majority against the President, it will be better represented in the procession than any other section of the country except the near by east.

The Treasury Department has taken up the matter of the alleged smuggling by Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick, and the reported concealment of a large amount of her assets. Late yesterday Collector of Customs Leach, of Cleveland, came here and had conference with Secretary Shaw and others. Particulars of the conference were not given out, but last night Mr. Leach, in company with Mr. Oldham, started for New York supposedly in quest of the alleged smuggled gems and secreted dollars.

Senator Elkins statement to the Senate today, announcing the futility of further efforts to push a railroad rate bill through the Senate at this session, followed an executive session of the interstate commerce committee of the Senate which lasted for more than an hour. The result of the discussion was to make it apparent that the committee was not ready to commit itself to any legislation on this subject, and it was decided to resume the hearings on Thursday next.

Samuel Gassenheimer charged with receiving embezzled railroad tickets, was this afternoon convicted by a jury in Criminal Court No. 1., Judge Wright presiding. The jury, however, recommended that mercy be shown to the defendant. It is thought that the case will be carried to the Court of Appeals.

Representative Campbell of Kansas called on the Secretary of the Interior today and requested him to fully investigate the blanket lease for seven hundred thousand acres of the best oil and gas lands of the Osage Indian reservation, known as the "Foster lease," with a view to determining how the lease was originally obtained, who the present beneficiaries are and whether or not fraud entered into the arrangement, so that, if justice demands it, the lease may be annulled. The subject was discussed at considerable length by the Cabinet at its regular meeting today. At the close of the meeting Secretary Hitchcock said that the view of the administration was that the parties owning the lease had certain vested rights which it would be unjust for the government to interfere with.

William H. Smith was appointed postmaster at Halfway, Fauquier county, Va., today, vice Clarence C. Middleton, resigned, and Adam K. Wyant at Moormans River, Albemarle county, vice William M. Clarke, removed.

CONGRESSIONAL.

Whether the Senate conferees on the statehood bill will represent the party that defeated joint statehood for Arizona and New Mexico, or the party that fought for the retention of that provisions was debated at length in the Senate yesterday, but no decision was reached. The usual manner is to name as conferees the two ranking majority members and the ranking minority member of the committee having the bill in charge. In the present case it was contended by Senators Gorman and Teller that the conferees, if named, would not represent sentiment for the bill as passed by the Senate. The arguments were interrupted by the convention of the Senate as a court to hear the Swayne impeachment charges, but will be continued today. The House managers in the Swayne trial rested their case yesterday, and the defense opened.

The House, after a seven-hour session, passed the naval appropriation bill, carrying a total of $99,914,359. The provision for two battle-ships, as reported by the committee on naval affairs, was retained. Both the majority and minority were badly divided over the proposition, at least forty members of the latter going over to the republicans, while about an equal number of republicans voted in opposition.

McCue's Will Is Probated.

The will of J. Samuel McCue who was hanged at Charlottesville February 10, for the murder of his wife, was admitted to probate in the Corporation Court of this city. Four of the six brothers of the deceased—William H., Charles M., Leslie H. and Edward O. McCue—qualified as executors, giving bond in $100,000 in the American Bonding Company.

The document is in the handwriting of the deceased, and is dated September 10, six days after the tragedy and three days after McCue's arrest. After expressing a desire that all of his just debts be paid as soon as convenient, the testator bequeaths his entire estate, real, personal and mixed, to his four "beloved and darling children"—Joseph William McCue, Samuel Overton McCue, Ruby Grigsby McCue and Harry Moon McCue share and share alike. The above named brothers are designated as guardians of the four children, and trustees for the three boys until they attain their majority, and for Ruby continuously. The trustees are empowered to use such portions of Ruby's share of the estate that they may deem necessary for her comfort and proper station in life.

The testator further directs that "my darling daughter be reared by and remain in the custody and care of my darling aunt, Mrs. Maria Sammie Dinwiddie, as I know that she will be a mother, indeed, to her, and as she has verily been to me." The executors of the estate are empowered to sell or rent any or all of the real estate of the deceased, and to use the rents, profits or proceeds for the support of such of the children as in their opinion might require same. The sum of $200 is to be applied for the erection of a monument over the graves of his "late beloved parents."

The concluding paragraph of the will reads: "And now, most earnestly commending all of the above mentioned and darling ones to His infinite mercy, loving kindness and all-abounding grace, and God grant that we shall eventually be an unbroken circle above."

The following appraisers were appointed: A. Pendleton Bibb, James H. Lindsay, Branch E. Jeffries, Robert A. Watson and G. F. Compton.

Stafford Cattle Affected.

Mr. Turner Ashby, of near Onville, Stafford county, has a herd of cattle which it is said are affected with a disease known as amphiax. This disease is contagious to man and beast. Mr. Ashby has lost four of the cattle and others are affected. Dr. R. J. Payne, the health officer, has been called upon and a warrant issued directing two physicians to proceed there and make an examination. It is supposed they will make their report to the State Board of Health in Richmond.—[Fredericksburg Star.

FLURRY AMONG REPUBLICANS

The latest order of President Roosevelt notifying federal officeholders in the several States that all who hold political office must either relinquish their federal commissions or their political positions has created something of a commotion among the numerous republicans holding places under the government throughout the country.

A dispatch from Washington says: "President Roosevelt intends to put an end to the practice prevalent among Southern republicans holding federal offices of serving on State committees and assuming the authority of political managers. The heads of the departments have been instructed by the President to see to it that men holding both federal and political offices shall resign one or the other. This rule, which is in compliance with the civil service law, will be enforced in one State after another as rapidly as the Civil Service Commission reports upon the subject to the President.

"The first report of the Civil Service Commission, affecting Virginia only, was made some time ago, and federal officeholders serving on the State committee were compelled to resign from the committee. It was not then understood how vigorously this order would be enforced, nor how widely applied, but it is now announced that the Civil Service Commission will pursue its investigation into all of the Southern States where the practice is understood to prevail and into other States where it may be found that federal officers hold political office also.

"The commission took up the case of Alabama after disposing of Virginia and has reported to the President that a majority of the republican State committee there is composed of federal officeholders. The President immediately directed the heads of the departments to communicate with the referees of Alabama and notify them that the federal officeholders must resign at once from the State committee or else surrender their federal commission. In response to this notice the referees have communicated the fact that two members of the State committee had resigned at once and that the order would be fully complied with.

"The Civil Service Commission will report upon each of the Southern States in turn as speedily as the information can be gained, and the order of the President will be communicated to the referees in each State in which the reports show that federal officers are holding political office, South Carolina, it is understood, will be the next State reported upon. No report has yet been submitted with reference to Maryland, but the rule will apply there as elsewhere whenever the Civil Service Commission shall report that any federal officer in that State is serving as a political committeeman.

"The deliberate manner in which the order is being enforced, action in each State being delayed until the Civil Service Commission has reported, will give ample notice to federal officeholders, and it is expected that in many States the abuse will have been already corrected before the Civil Service Commission has made its examination and is prepared to report. It is apparently the purpose to avoid the sudden shock of putting the order into effect in all the States at once and this system of acting only on information ascertained through the Civil Service Commission is expected to accomplish the reform speedily enough for practical purposes and to put an end to the system of party control in the South by federal officeholders."

RUSSIAN AFFAIRS.

It is reported that the Czar has decided to convene the zemsky sobor, or land Parliament, and that an imperial maulfesto announcing the convocation will be issued March 4, the anniversary of the liberation of the serfs. It is very doubtful whether this compromise plan will stay the revolutionary movement.

The students and the educational groups are uniting with the workingmen in the great movement for liberty. In the halls of the University of St. Petersburg professors and students met yesterday and denounced the government in no uncertain terms. Educated young men announced their readiness to fight for the people's cause. The Czar's portrait was dragged from the wall and torn into bits, and the red flag was unfurled amidst cries for liberty. It was a grim warning to the Czar and the autocracy from Russia's seat of education.

Other universities of Russia, gymnasia and even grammar schools were already on strike, and the military in various portions of the empire have been obliged to resort to force to restrain schoolboys of tender years who are joining the general movement.

The meeting of St. Petersburg students, at which over 3,000 participated, besides voting to suspend studies until September 1, adopted a set of political resolutions demanding the formation of a constituent assembly and characterizing the proposed summoning of the zemsky sobor as inadequate for the emergency. The resolutions, after speaking of "the progressive demoralization of Russia under the influence of the absolute regime," declare for freedom of speech, the press, conscience, the right of association and assembly and to strike, which are described as necessary conditions for the further progress of Russia.

Fearing to take the risk of a trip to Moscow to attend the funeral service of the Grand Duke Sergius, the Czar and the members of the imperial family will have a simultaneous requiem service held in the Tsarskoe-Selo, the palace in which they believe they are safe from the bomb-throwers.

A Warrant for Faulkner.

The case against Oliver F. Faulkner, the Winchester merchant who recently won a suit for $10,000 damages brought against him by Effie Beitsch, who alleged improper conduct, was reopened in Winchester yesterday, when a warrant, sworn out by John Beitsch, the father of the girl, on a technical charge of assault and battery, was issued for Faulkner's arrest. The case has been set for Saturday, February 25, in the Magistrate's Court. A special term of the grand jury yesterday declined to indict Faulkner on the misdemeanor charge, and the charge preferred in the Magistrate's Court was the result. The special grand jury was summoned at the request of Prosecuting Attorney Kern.

SCENE IN THE HOUSE.

The House yesterday resumed consideration of the naval appropriation bill.

There was a digression from the debate on this bill, when Mr. Baker condemned President Roosevelt for sending to the Russian Government a message of sympathy on account of the assassination of Grand Duke Sergius and expressing the opinion that both the American government and people viewed the killing with abhorrence. Mr. Baker declared that no such message had been sent when the massacre occurred in St. Petersburg on January 22.

"I deny," he vehemently asserted, "that the American people are shocked by the killing of the Grand Duke Sergius." The people, he insisted, were, however, shocked "at the wanton massacre on January 22." The killing of Sergius the declared to be but an incident in the effort the Russian people were making to overthrow the tyranny that had oppressed them.

"Do you wish it to go out to the country," interjected Mr Thayer, "that the American people sanction the killing of Grand Duke Sergius?"

Mr. Baker replied that the people were shocked at the action of a government that refused to take notice of the murder of thousand of individuals "and yet pretends to be horrified at the loss of one human life."

General applause was accorded Mr. Maddox when he declared that the democratic side of the House did not approve of "this damnable assassination." He said the democrats believed in fair rights. "We don't believe in slaughter," he said, "and we don't believe in this business which caused the slaughter of the Grand Duke, and," he added, "the democratic party do not stand for it now, nor will it ever do so."

In the course of his remarks Mr. Baker referred to the refusal of the House to adjourn out of respect to the Russians killed on the streets of St. Petersburg on January 22.

With particular reference to that action, Mr. Grosvenor was bitter in his criticism of Mr. Baker. Mr. Baker's action he declared to have been unprecedented. Had adjournment been taken, he said, it would have been a meaningless and stupid exhibition of ignorance. The public and the world knew that the American Congress did not sympathize with riot and unnecessary bloodshed. Whether it was necessary or not there was no doubt a strong critical opinion in the country, but, he said, no intelligent man would suggest that Congress express an opinion on that subject. Mr. Grosvenor spoke on Grand Duke Sergius as a Cabinet officer of the emperor. He denied that the President fell short of his duty, and said that as regards the killing of the Grand Duke Sergius it would have been little short of impropriety had not the President sent his message of condolence.

The United States, he said, was not treating the question of the character of Sergius, nor the question of the right or wrong of Russia's internal policy, but in the name of common humanity and in pursuance of a time honored precedent the President had sent his message of condolence. He ventured the assertion, and received liberal applause in doing so, that if a vote of condemnation of the President was afforded by any resolution of Mr. Baker it would not get a vote except the latter's own. The President, he concluded, had done exactly what civilization recognized as his duty.

Mr. Baker created a sensation by offering the following resolution:

"That while this House views with horror the deliberate destruction of human life at all times and under all circumstances, yet it declares that reprehensible as was the murder of the Grand Duke Sergius, it was no more wanton than the massacre perpetrated by the Russian government on January 22, when thousands of unharmed men, women and children were butchered in cold blood, and that it regards the murder of those helpless unoffending men, women and children as one of the most dastardly crimes ever perpetrated; that in refusing to express the horror of the people of this country at that fearful crime, while now asserting that 'both the American Government and people' view the killing of Grand Duke Sergius with abhorrence, the President has not and does not voice the real sentiments of the people of the United States."

In an excited manner he asserted that he had been told that if he introduced the resolution a motion would be made to expel him from the House. Rushing down the aisle and waving the resolution in his hand he deposited it in the box provided for such measures and defied anyone to make a motion to expel him.

"Make it now," he shouted, "Expel! Expel! !Expel! I tell you. Introduce your motion to expel!"

No action was taken on the resolution.

The consideration of the naval appropriation bill was subsequently resumed.

MINE HORROR.

Meager reports reached Birmingham, Ala., yesterday evening of a terrible disaster in the Virginia mines, which are situated about 18 miles from Birmingham. One hundred and five men are entombed in the mine, and it is believed that all are dead. Relief trains carrying physicians and laborers have been sent to the scene of the disaster from both Birmingham and Bessemer. Reports to the Age-Herald at 10 o'clock last night state that every effort is being made to reach the men, but that they cannot possibly succeed before this morning. The mines belong to the Alabama Steel and Wire Company and are leased by Reid & Co. Both white and colored miners are employed, and only recently union miners went to work The mines are considered models of their kind. The slopes are well situated and there never has been any trouble from gas heretofore. It is stated that the accident was caused by a cave-in, due to the giving away of the timbers.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

[Special dispatch to the Alexandria Gazette.]

Richmond, Feb. 21.—The Governor leaves tomorrow for Alexandria, where he will participate in the celebration of the anniversary of Washington's birthday. He will spend the day in Alexandria and return to Richmond at night. Lieutenant-Governor Willard will also be present and join in the celebration.

The Bon Marini Murder.

Turin, Italy, Feb. 21.—The Bon Marini murder trial, the sensational case in latter years of Italian court history, will be opened today. The court room was crowded with spectators, among them being many of high rank. The Countess Theodolinda Bon Martini, widow of the murdered Count, was placed in the prisoner's dock. She was very pale and haggard and had lost all the beauty for which she was once noted. Her once bright eyes had become dulled, and dark rings circled them while her form had lost all its one time comeliness. The other prisoners looked well, and had a nonchalant manner of carrying themselves. The Countess and Doctor Seechi, her former lover, will be accused of premeditating and instigating the assassination of the Count, while Dr. Murri, the Countess' father, and Doctor Naldi will be accused of committing the assassination by thirteen dagger thrusts in the body of the Count. Rossa Bonetti the mistress of the Countess' brother, will be charged as an accomplice. Dr. Murri will be further accused of rifling the body of jewelry, money and documents. The murder of Count Bon Martini occurred on August 23, 1902. He was a man of herculean strength, and as well of unspeakable immorality. He maltreated his wife, and conducted his lisisons with others in bold, open fashion. The Countess is said to have been any thing but blameless, and to have indulged herself in orgies little less revolting than those of her husband. On the day of the murder, Murri, Naldi and Rossa Bonnetti awaited the Count in his rooms, and when he entered, threw him down and stabbed him to death.

Gov. Vardeman to Oppose Congressman Williams.

New Orleans, Feb. 21.—Advices from Jackson, Miss., state that Governor Vardeman, of Mississippi, will oppose the election of Congressman John Sharp Williams, as the successor of U. S. Senator Money. Mr. Williams is accepted as the most available candidate, but Gov. Vardeman is anxious to enter the Senate. The breach is widening between them, and when Congressman Williams returns to the State after the adjournment of Congress, he will not find the governor such an ardent admirer of his. Friends of Gov. Vardeman consider the vacancy in prospective, Senator Money's seat, is one opportunity for the further advancement of Gov. Vardeman and there is reason to believe that the governor's ambition lies in that direction. The Governor has strong views on the race question. He cannot succeed himself as governor of Mississippi, and there is no probable congressional vacancy in his district, and the sensatorial probability offers more inducements than a congressional possibility.

War in the East.

Tokio, Feb. 21.—Field Marshal Oyama reports a small infantry attack by the Japanese on Fangshan yesterday. He also reports that the Russians shelled Lapatai on Sunday with heavy guns.

Tokio, Feb. 21.—Word has been received here that in preparation for an expected attack on Vladivostok by the Japanese, the Russians are throwing up entrenchments on the northern bank of the Tumen river.

Mussulmans and Armenians Fight.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 21.—Dispatches from Baku state that street fighting broke out there on Sunday between Mussulmans and Armenians. Thirty-five persons were killed or wounded. The hostilities were resumed yesterday. All the rioters are well armed, and the police were unable to cope with the situation. All business was suspended on account of the trouble and yesterday evening it was feared civil war on a small scale was imminent. Reinforcements were summoned and today the rioters are being subdued. The cause of the outbreak is supposed to have been a bloody feud.

Anarchy in the Caucasus.

London, Feb. 21.—The Exchange Telegraph Company's St. Petersburg correspondent wires that private advices received in the Russian capital report a state of anarchy prevailing in the Caucasus. The Entombed Miners.

Birmingham, Ala., Feb. 21.—Rescuers at work at the Virginia mines where an explosion late yesterday afternoon imprisoned one hundred and fifty miners, labored all night, digging through the tons of debris in an effort to rescue the entombed men. A report early this morning said that sixty dead bodies had been found but this is as yet unconfirmed. A telephone message at 9:30 o'clock from Bessemer says that probably all hope of finding the men alive has been abandoned, as evidence found by rescuers indicates that after the explosion which resulted from a "windy shot" due to overcharging, after black damp premated the mine making it impossible for any one to live in it. So severe was the after damp that many of the rescuers were overcome and had to be taken to the surface and revived. Wives and children of the entombed men hovered around the mouth of the mine all night, and many pitiable scenes were presented. Not a person slept at Virginia last night, and scores of miners from throughout the district hurried to the place to aid in the work of rescue.

By 9 o'clock this morning nine bodies had been taken from the mines. Over one hundred bodies are still in the mine, and it is a certainty that the men are dead. Women and children have camped all night at the mouth of the mine, keeping themselves as warm as possible by fires built in the rain.

Disastrous Conflagrations.

New York, Feb. 21.—Fire this morning in the six story building Nos. 806-810 Greenwich street, occupied by Philip Hano & Co., bookbinders and printers, caused damage estimated at $100,000. The flames secured considerable headway owing to frozen hydrants, which prevented the fireman from getting streams on the blaze.

Boston, Feb. 21.—In the most extensive and disastrous fire that this city has seen for years, piers 3 and 4 of the Hoosic Tunnel docks were totally destroyed, the steamships Dalton Hall of the Furness line and Philadephian of the Wilson-Furness-Leyland line badly damaged, and hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of freight on the piers and cargo in the vessels wiped out by fire between 1:30 and 4 o'clock this morning. The estimate of the loss is $1,500,000. Two firemen and one of the Philadephian's crew was severly injured, and, with two other members of the crew picked out of the water by the relief station.

The Beef Trust.

Chicago, Feb. 21.—A special federal grand jury venire was ordered today and ten deputy United States marshals sent out with subpoenas summoning more than twenty-five members of the so-called beef trust. When the federal grand jury has been sworn in, these will be taken before it and an attempt will be made to indict persons restrained by Judge Grosscup in the beef trust case, which was recently sustained by the United States Supreme Court. It is said this action is the outcome of orders from Washington.

Major Carrington Sentenced.

Manila, Feb. 21.—Major Carrington was today sentenced to serve a term of sixty years and five days imprisonment, for falsifying government vouchers for the amount of $1,500. He was tried and convicted on five counts, and the sentence on each of these was twelve years and one day. The case will be carried to the Supreme Court of the Philippines, and failing there, will probably be taken to the Supreme Court of the United States.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Feb. 21.—The stock market was active and buoyant this morning with buying based in many instances on the theory of consolidation deals. The railroad list resumed its upward movement. The speculation showed breadth and variety.

Cadets to Lead the Parade.

The order of march for the inaugural parade has been announced, and it is decided that the West Point cadets and the midshipmen from Annapolis shall head the parade, the cadets leading the entire procession. Then will follow the regulars of the army, followed by the State troops in alphabetical order. The governors of the States who will attend will ride at the head of their State's troops, each governor to be accompanied by his staff. Sixteen governors have announced their intention of participating, and these include Governor Warfield, of Maryland, and Governor Montague, of Virginia. General Joseph Wheeler has accepted an invitation to act as marshal of one of the divisions of the civic parade. Chairman Weller, of the division of State troops, expects a large number of the National Guard to be in line. Pennsylvania has always led in numbers at previous inaugurations, but New York will be first this year, with Pennsylvania second.

Knights of Pythias.

A statement has been given out from the office of Charles E. Shively, of Richmond, supreme chancellor of the Knights of Pythias of the world, bearing on the order's finances. This shows that on January 1, 1905, the supreme master of exchequer had on hand a balance of $44,892, and that the resources of the endowment rank in excess of liabilities was $887,054.

Fifty-Eighth Congress.

Washington, Feb. 21.

SENATE.

The death knell of railroad rate legislation in the Senate for this session was sounded today when Senator Elkins, chairman of the committee on interstate commerce, speaking on the floor of the Senate practically gave formal notice that all efforts to secure such legislation had been abandoned and that it was the intention of the committee to continue its inquiry during the summer.

The statement was in reply to a request for information made by Mr. Berry. Senator Elkins declared that the members of the committee favored increasing the powers of the Interstate Commerce Commission, but that they feel that hasty legislation would be unwise and injurious. "The committee has not reached a definite conclusion," he declared, "but the chance of acting on one of the most important economic questions ever presented to Congress seems very slim."

Mr. Carmack raised a laugh when he announced that "joyous harmony prevailed in the committee on advocacy of the doctrine preached in the last democratic national platform." And a roar went up in which Mr. Elkins joined, when he turned to that Senator and declared: "We, the members of that committee, feel that we can safely follow the leadership of our chairman, one of ablest lieutenants of William J. Bryan."

The military academy bill was passed after the adoption of an amendment authorizing the President to nominate on the retired list with the rank of Brigadier General Senator Joseph R. Hawley.

The Senate resolved itself into a court of impeachment in the Swayne case at 2 p. m.

SUN-DRIED APPLES just received by J. C. MILBURN.

Alexandria Gazette.

TUESDAY EVENING, FEB. 21, 1905.

Local Matters.

Sun rises tomorrow at 6:43 and sets 5:45. High water at 9:33 a. m. and 9:57 p. m.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.—For this section fair tonight. Wednesday increasing cloudiness; slight changes in temperature; variable winds, becoming southerly.

The Weather and River.

The temperature has been mild again today, and much of the ice and snow in the streets has been dissipated. The mercury in the thermometer at 7 o'clock this morning stood at 31° and rose gradually as the day advanced, standing at 44° at noon. A thick fog hung over the city during the early morning, but the sun subsequently shone out brightly and the weather continued fair.

Conditions on the river, however, are practically unchanged—that is on the upper portion. Heavy ice covers the entire surface, and the track made in the main channel by steamers is a mass of fragments frozen together. In the lower river the embargo shows signs of giving away, the ice in some of the tributaries having moved out into the channel of the river. The steamer Washington which arrived up from Norfolk several hours late yesterday morning, was delayed by being compelled to break her way through heavy floes below Colonial Beach. These floes had been formed by ice which had moved out of Wicomico and other tributaries. The steamer Norfolk, which left Sunday night for Norfolk, arrived at her destination on time. She was, however, delayed in her arrival here this morning about two hours by the fog.

The ice in this vicinity is in some places over a foot thick. On Sunday last a block was cut a short distance north of this city that measured fourteen inches.

A train of railway cars drawn by a locomotive running on ice upon the river is a sight that can now be seen at the lower end of Alexander Island near the Long bridge. The contractors, who are building the new railway tracks between Alexandria and Washington for the Washington-Southern Railway, have laid a track on the ice over Gravelly run and are using it in the building of the new railway embankment across the run. A dinkey engine drawing a train of six or seven cars dump their loads and the engine clay-laden cars runs out on the ice, the puffs back to solid ground to where the cars are being loaded. The ice stands the strain without a crack and work is proceeding as rapidly as if the track bed was solid earth.

Yesterday's Railroad Accident.

The accident to north bound passenger train No. 14 of the Manassas branch of the Southern Railway yesterday morning was of a serious nature and that it resulted simply in injury to the engineer and fireman and several others on the train seems miraculous. As was stated in the Gazette, the train jumped the track while rounding a sharp curve at the "Y," one mile from Front Royal, about nine o'clock yesterday morning. After leaving the track the train ran about 50 yards, dragging the express, baggage and mail coaches, which were upturned. The train had just left the station at Front Royal, and, according to Engineer Moore's report, was running at the rate of 15 miles an hour, when the engine suddenly lurched and left the track, taking with it the entire train. The engineer, who was making his first run on this branch, jumped. Nat Thornton, colored, the fireman, when found, was buried under the tender and coal, and a pick and shovel had to be employed before he was extricated. The report circulated this morning, to the effect that he had died from his injuries was incorrect.

Engineer Moore reached this city yesterday and was taken to his home on Cameron street where he was attended by the railway company's physician. Both of his legs are burned from the knees to the feet; he is also bruised about the face, and his left elbow was dislocated. He is resting comfortably and his injuries, while painful, are not serious.

Police Court.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Nathaniel Phillips, colored, arrested by Officer Allen as a suspicious character and for carrying concealed weapons, was fined $20.

Alberta Lewis, colored, arrested by Officers Sherwood and Nicholson charged with disorderly conduct, was dismissed.

Haislip Pendleton, colored, arrested by Officer Allen charged with disorderly conduct, was dismissed.

James Miller, colored, arrested by Officers Mayhugh and Bettis charged with carrying concealed weapons, was dismissed.

Alfred Foster, colored, arrested by Officers Lyles and Allen charged with drunken and disorderly conduct, was fined $5.

William Davis, colored, arrested by Officers Smith and Nicholson charged with assaulting and beating Pauline Betts, was fined $2.50.

A colored school girl, arrested by Officer Sherwood charged with assaulting and beating a companion, was dismissed.

A young white man, arested by Officer Beach for disorderly conduct, was fined $2.50.

John Bryant, colored, arrested by Officer Beach for disorderly conduct, was fined $2.50.

Suit for Damages.

The case of Austin Chapman against the Washington, Alexandria and Mount Vernon Railway Company came up for a hearing yesterday morning before Judge Clabaugh, in Circuit Court No. 2, Washington. The front mechanism of the trolley cars which are operated on this line was brought into court and introduced as evidence. Chapman is suing the railway company for damages sustained while riding as a passenger from Washington to Alexandria on one of the cars of the defendant railway company. He was thrown from a car and dragged more than 100 yards. He was bruised and injured and laid up for several months. His doctor's bill was $500. He asks the court to allow him $10,000 damages.

Social Tonight.

The Westminister League of the Second Presbyterian Church will give their social at 8 o'clock tonight—not Thursday, as had been previously announced. An interesting programme has been prepared, and an enjoyable time is anticipated.

Personal.

Mr. J. Y. Williams, secretary of the General Washington Birthday Celebration Association, received a dispatch from Gov. Montague today, saying that he would be here tomorrow to attend the banquet to be given by that association in the evening and also the Masonic banquet at night. He will reach here about noon and will be escorted to the Hotel Rammel.

The Junior Card Club will be entertained Wednesday night, February 22, by the Misses Barrett and Foster at the home of the latter, No. 506 Prince street.

Mr. William B. Butler has gone to Asheville, N. C.

Engineer W. T. Day, of the Southern Railway, has been called to Richmond by the serious illness of his mother.

Railroad Thieves.

Watchman Brown of the Washington-Southern Railway last night discovered two men in the act of breaking into a freight car in the yard adjoining this city. He proceeded as rapidly as possible toward the two men, and when they saw him they ran eastward toward Fayette street into which they ran, proceeding in a northerly direction. The watchman followed closely behind the fugitives and fired four shots from a revolver at them. The thieves ran into King street and escaped. The incident brought a number of people residing on Fayette street to their doors.

The Twenty-second.

The Twenty-second of February, Washington's birthday, is a legal holiday and will be so observed in this city. As heretofore stated, the banks and public offices will be closed, the postoffice will keep Sunday hours, the schools will be given holiday and after the morning hours some of the places of business will be closed. The celebration of the day will be at the various banquets to be held in the evening and at night and there will also be several dances. The committees of the various organizations which will hold banquets tomorrow are busy today making the final arrangements.

The Inaugural Ceremonies.

The inaugural committee has requested Magnus L. Robinson to act as chairman of the auxiliary inaugural committee for Alexandria with authority to appoint ten additional colored men from whom invitations may be received to participate in the ceremonies on March 4. The committee will be appointed and those of the colored element who desire to attend the inaugural ball can obtain invitations from the members.

Funeral.

The funeral of the late John Nugent took place from St. Mary's Church this morning. Friends and relatives of the deceased were in attendance. The services were conducted by Rev. Father Cutler and the pallbearers were Messrs. J. G. Everard, M. Igoe, John McKenna, M. B. Harlow, T. W. Robinson and Thos. J. Fannon. Father Cutler paid a just tribute to the virtues of the deceased during the services.

Burglar in the House.

About ten o'clock last night a strange man was heard in the residence of Mr. John T. Nalls, on King street, near Alfred. Officer Henderson hastened to the premises, but the intruder escaped by the front door when he realized that his presence had been discovered. The officer made a thorough search of the house. So far as is known the burglar carried nothing away with him.

Modern Protective Association.

A lodge of the Modern Protective Association will be organized at Schuler's Hall tonight. Mr. Wm. Cross, of Sayre, Pa., the supreme president of the order, will deliver a public address on the aims, objects and benefits of the order and a cordial invitation has been extended to the citizens of Alexandria to attend the meeting.

The Presidential Inauguration Ceremonies, Washington, D. C., March 4, 1905.

Southern Railway begs to announce to its patrons that on account of the above occasion it has authorized the extremely low rate of one first-class fare plus 25c for the round trip from all points on its lines to Washington, D. C., and return, dates of sale from points in Virginia March 2nd and 3rd and for trains arriving in Washington before 1:00 p. m. March 4th, final limit March 8th, 1905. By deposit personally by holder of ticket with special agent at Washington and payment of fee of $1.00 per ticket at time of deposit, not later than March 8th, extension of limit may be obtained to leave Washington not later than March 18th, 1905. For further information apply to local agents of Southern Railway.

The Opera House last night was crowded to witness "Ten Nights in a Barroom," which was presented by amateur talent of this city and Washington. This drama was presented here several years ago, but the production last night was the best ever seen in this city. The play was given for the benefit of Mr. Wayne Byers, a popular gentleman of this city, who has been incapacitated for work for some time. Many persons expected to witness only a fair performance, but were surprised before the first act was over, as it became evident that it would be the best amateur performance ever given here; and it was. Mr. E. R. Boyer's interpretation of Joe Morgan, the drunkard, was par excellence, and won hearty applause. Mr. Boyer has appeared in this part several times, but his acting last night was the best. Mr. Harry Fleischmann, as Simon Slade, was thoroughly up to the average actor, and won for himself great honors. His make up and German dialect were excellent. Mr. A. D. Deeton, as Sample Swichel, had the comedy role, and was the right man in the right place. All the other male members of the cast scored distinct hints. Of the female members of the cast Mrs. Newton Buckler and Miss Minnie Zimmerman divided the honors, although the others were far above the average, especially the distinct and excellent portrayal by Miss Hammersley of the role of Mrs. Simon Slade. Between the acts the Alexandria Ideal Musical Club rendered selections; a quartette, composed of Messrs. J. T. Lucas, F. W. Smith, Robert Smith and G. T. Curtis, sang several pieces; Messrs. Robert Wenzel and P. F. Downey rendered solos, and Mr. J. Fred Birrell gave several recitations. The affair was gotten up by a number of friends of Mr. Byers, who worked hard for its success, and quite a large sum was realized. Let us have more of these good performances. Mrs. Buckler has endeared herself to the Alexandria public and her acting last night was far above the average. The pathos which she exhibited in the deathbed scene of her child was so well enacted as to be almost realistic. Mrs. Buckler has a charming and pleasing stage appearance and the large audience fully appreciated her histrionic ability. Mrs. Buckler and Mr. Boyer have appeared successfully, and have been highly spoken of by the press of the leading cities in the South as amateurs worthy of the praise of the most fastidious critics. In their repertoire they have given scenes from Hamlet, Romeo and Juliet and Ingomar.

Being so gratified at the success of last night's performance, Mr. Boyer has been requested by a number of prominent citizens to organize a permanent dramatic organization, to which he has consented. Alexandria has for a long time been backward in this respect, but under the able direction of Mr. Boyer it will no doubt boast of in the near future an organization of amateurs second to none.

Nothing Equals Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Dr. P. B. Spears, of Pinchard, Ala., has become acquainted with the good qualities of Chamberlain's Colic Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and uses it in his own family and in his practice. He says: "It beats any preparation I have ever seen for all bowel complaints, I do not think of recommending any other, and also use it with my own children." This remedy is for sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

The Proper Coffee—Pure, Uniform, Delicious and Healthful.

For several months past the Southern Coffee & Spice Company, of Washington, has been supplying many of the grocers of Alexandria with coffee, teas and spices.

This company has now decided to place its popular blends, "BOW KNOT" Coffee in one pound tins and "SOUTHRON LEADER" in one pound packages on the market here.

The "Bow Knot" M. & J. Blend, to introduce, will be sold at 30 cents per pound and is the best procurable, and superior to the average 35 cent or 40 cent coffee, designed for high class trade.

The "Southron Leader" is a popular premium coffee sold at 20 cents per pound, equal to the ordinary 25 cent coffee.

Ten coupons returned to the grocer secures one pound of this coffee free.

Ask your grocer for these coffees and be convinced. feb11 pains cause agony in Neuralgia. Those who are subject to attacks of this dreadful disease, should always keep, handy for immediate use, a bottle of

HAMLINS
WIZARD OIL

This marvelous pain remedy will quickly relieve the spasms which wrack the tortured nerves, and, if taken internally, will permanently cure the cause of the disease.

"I had been a sufferer for years," writes Calvin E. Hill, of Marietta, Ga., "from the frightful pains of neuralgia, and never found any remedy that would give me relief, until I tried Hamlins Wizard Oil, which effected a permanent cure." Price 50c and $1.

Precautionary Treatment.

The Dutch peasant lives with canals all about him and reaches his cottage by way of a drawbridge. Perhaps it is in the blood of the Dutch child, says a writer in M. A. P., not to fall into a canal. At all events the Dutch mother never appears to anticipate such a possibility.

One can imagine the average English or American mother trying to bring up a family in a house surrounded by canals. She would never have a moment's peace until the children were in bed. But then the mere sight of a canal to the English child suggests the delights of a sudden and unexpected bath.

An Englishman inquired of a Dutchwoman, "Does a Dutch child ever by any chance fall into a canal?"

"Yes," she replied, "cases have been known."

"Don't you do anything for it?" continued the questioner.

"Oh, yes," she answered. "We haul them out again."

"But what I mean is," explained the Englishman, "don't you do anything to prevent their falling in—to save them from falling in again?"

"Yes," she answered, "we spank them."

Calculating the Distance of a Storm.

Although lightning and thunder occur always simultaneously an interval of shorter or longer duration is usually observed between these two phenomena, which is due to the fact that sound travels only at the rate of 1,100 feet per second, while the passage of light is almost instantaneous. Based upon this fact, it is an easy matter to tell, at least approximately, how many miles a thunderstorm is away. A normal pulse will beat one stroke to the second, and by counting the pulse beats during the interval of the lightning and the thunder the lapse of seconds is arrived at and consequently the number of feet, which can be reduced to miles.

For example, if thirty seconds elapse between the flash of the lightning and the crash of thunder the storm center is at a distance of 33,000 feet or about six and one-half miles. An almost accurate calculation can be made by using a watch with a minute dial.

The Parisian Cafe Caricaturist.

Among other Parisian types described by a recent observer is the cafe caricaturist. "He is a youth with a pale face and very long hair. He looks the type of the bohemian and he is. He offers to draw caricatures for 50 centimes (10 cents). His luncheon is frequently a myth, nor is he always sure of his dinner. But, no matter what the state of his finances, he will have his absinth, to which he adds but little water. The cafe caricaturist is invariably an 'artist who has not succeeded.' He has either been at the Beaux Arts or has studied under some famous painter. Somehow or other he has come to grief and has swelled the ranks of those whom fortune has disinherited."

The Value of a Name.

Nelson, a thriving little English town, is a living instance of the value of a name. Not long after the battle of Trafalgar some tinker, tailor or other person established a tiny wayside inn and called it after the naval hero. There was nobody on the spot from whom to expect custom, but the road led to and from populous districts. Travelers stopped at the place, and presently a cottage or two began to rise, then more of them, and the name of the public house answered for the whole. That was the nucleus of the present town. Now 40,000 people live around the site which the old innkeeper chose and called after the name of his hero.

Public is Aroused.

The public is aroused to a knowledge of the curative merits of that great medicinal tonic, Electric Bitters, for sick stomach; liver and kidneys. Mary H. Walters, of 546 St. Clair Ave., Columbus, O., writes; "For several months I was given up to die. I had fever and ague, my nerves were wrecked; I could not sleep, and my stomach was so weak, from useless doctors' drugs, that I could not eat. Soon after beginning to take Electric Bitters I obtained relief, and in a short time I was entirely cured." Guaranteed at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store; price 50c.

Give Your Stomach a Rest.

Your food must be properly digested and assimilated to be of any value to you. If your stomach is weak or diseased take Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It digests what you eat and gives the stomach a rest, enabling it to recuperate, take on new life and grow strong again. Kodol cures sour stomach, gas, bloating, heart palpitation and all digestive disorders. Sold by all druggists.

Bad breath, belching of gas and sour risings are due to Indigestion. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is a guaranteed cure. L. A. Soper of Little Rock, Ky., writes us: "We feel that Kodol Dyspepsia Cure deserves all the commendations that can be given it, as it saved the life of our little girl when she was three years old. She is now six and we have kept it for her constantly, but of course she only takes it now when any thing disagrees with her." Kodol is the best medicine in the world for Indigestion, Dyspepsia and all stomach troubles. A trial of this greatest of all digestants will convince any who suffers. Good for young or old. Sold by all druggists

Perfect Confidence.

Where there used to be a feeling of uneasiness and worry in the household when a child showed symptoms of croup, there is now perfect confidence. This is owing to the uniform success of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the treatment of that disease. Mrs. M. I. Basford, of Poolesville, Md., in speaking of her experience in the use of that remedy says: "I have a world of confidence in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for I have used it with perfect success. My child Garland is subject to severe attacks of croup and it always gives him prompt relief." For sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

There is one rational way to treat nasal catarrh: the medicine is applied direct to the affected membrane. The remedy is Ely's Cream Balm. It restores the inflammed tissue to a healthy state without drying all the life out of them and it gives back the lost senses of taste and smell. The sufferer who is tried of vain experiments should use Cream Balm. Druggists sell it for 50 cts. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren street, New York, will mail it.

FOR OVER SIXTY YEARS.

AN OLD AND WELL-TRIED REMEDY.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over sixty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic and is the best remedy for Diarrhœa. Is pleasant to the taste. Sold by druggists in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Its value is incalculable. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup and take no other kind.

NOTICE—At a Corporation Court for the city of Alexandria, held on the 1st day of February, 1905, at the courthouse of said city:

George A. Smith, complainant, vs. The Alexandria Shoe Manufacturing Company, incorporated, defendant. In chancery and attachment.

EXTRACT FROM DECREE:

It is further adjudged, ordered and decreed that this cause be and the same is hereby referred to Robinson Moncure, esq., as a special commissioner, who shall state and report to the court on account of all liens upon the property and estate of the defendant corporation with their priorities, and also an account of all the indebtedness of said corporation of what kind soever, to whom due and payable and in what amounts.

It is further adjudged, ordered and decreed that the said special commissioner may give notice of the time and place of taking the accounts herein before ordered by publication once a week for four successive weeks in the Alexandria Gazette, a convenient newspaper, which is published and printed in the city of Alexandria, Virginia, and that such publication shall be equivalent to personal service of such notice on the parties to this cause.

Law Office of Robinson Moncure,
Alexandria, Va., (over Alex. Nat'l Bank)
8th day of February, 1905.

The parties interested in the decree, from which the foregoing is an extract, will take notice that, on the 11th day of March, 1905, at my office, at 10 o'clock a. m., in the city of Alexandria, Va., I shall proceed to execute the same when and where they are required to attend with such books, papers, vouchers and evidence as will enable me to comply with the order of the court.

ROBINSON MONCURE,
feb9 w4w-th Special Commissioner.

New York Daily Tribune.

If you are looking for a daily history of the world, carefully collated and sifted and presented in the most attractive form that the facts and the laws of good taste will permit, you cannot make any mistake in reading the Tribune every day. It contains special articles on nearly every subject which is supposed to interest intelligent and clean-minded people, to say nothing of the illuminating and instructive editorial articles and reviews of books, music and the drama. Invest $1 and get the daily and Sunday Tribune by mail for a month. With the Sunday Tribune goes a handsome illustrated supplement and a magazine, with colored covers, equal to anything sold for ten cents.

New York Tribune Farmer

The Tribune Farmer has no superior anywhere as a publication for farmers and their families. Everything worth knowing about the theory or practice of farming is treated by men recognized as experts in their various lines. It keeps the farmer in touch with all the latest improvement by text and pictures, and pays special attention to the work being done at agricultural colleges all over the country. Besides all this it has features to interest the women folk. The price is $1 a year. For a free sample copy send a postal card to the New-York Tribune, New-York.

N, Y, Tri-Weekly Tribune

For those who want to get the New York news and news of things the world over and don't want to spend the money or time in buying and reading a meropolitan paper seven days in the week The Tri-Weekly Tribune fills the bill. It is issued on Monday, Wednesday and Friday of every week. Price, $1.50 a year. For a free sample copy send a postal card to The New York Tribune, New York.

Combination offer—Harper's Bazar, with The Tri-Weekly Tribune, one year, $1.65; The Metropolitan Magazine, with The Tri-Weekly Tribune, one year, $1.65; all three for $2.50.

N. Y. Tribune Almanac.

If you never examined The Tribune Almanac just invest a quarter for once, and see how well pleased you'll be. The 1905 one will be on sale January 1, and may be had from your newsdealer, through your local paper or direct from The Tribune office. New York.

N. Y. Tribune Review.

The Tribune Weekly Review is a handsome sixteen page weekly issued by The New York Tribune Association. It costs five cents a copy, but may be had for a whole year for $1. There is no other such publication sold anywhere for the money. For free sample copy send a postal card to The Tribune, New York.
